This conference for professional historians from Australia and New Zealand marks the 25th anniversary of the Professional Historians Association in New South Wales. It takes place on the eve of the World Heritage Convention's decision about including Norfolk Island convict sites on the World Heritage register.

Islands of History offers lectures and site visits by local experts, PHA members and visiting scholars during four days of the conference. The remainder of the time will be free to explore the diverse heritage of the island.

Topics may include:

- South Pacific maritime history - exploration, whaling, tourism • British, French and Australian convicts in the South Pacific
- Professional practice issues – writing convict history, heritage planning, interpretation of historic sites • Christian Missions in the Pacific Islands • Prehistory and archaeology of the early Polynesian settlement • The Bounty mutiny and re-settlement of Pitcairn Islanders

Please send me a free information pack inc. DVD for the "Islands of History" PHA Conference, 17 - 24 July 2010
